Prepping For The Night Of Knights

Scene from modern dance routine which will be unveiled next Friday night in Burlington's Memorial Auditorium as part of the "Night of Knights" program. Tickets are on sale at the bookstore for the student variety show which should offer everything in the line of laughs and entertainment.

Baritone Garth Will Warble Here

The dramatic baritone and actor, John Garth III, will give a recital on December 12 and 13, under the sponsorship of the Knights and Knaves.

Although born in Mississippi, Garth was educated in Kansas City, Mo. It was also here that he began his musical training at the Harner Conservatory of Music. He furthered his studies at the Detroit Institute of Musical Arts and the Royal Academy of Music in London, England.

Garth began his career while still in school and has travelled throughout the United States, Canada, Mexico, and Europe. He received his first stage experience with the "Redpath Chautauqua." He then turned to radio as an announcer and singer, and then to Night Club entertainment, as a master of ceremonies and singer.

PORGY AND BESS

A realization which comes to all great actors was reached by Garth in 1935 when he made his Broadway debut in the Gershwin play, "Porgy and Bess," in the role of the "Undertaker." A trip to Europe followed in which Garth was cast in the play, "Blackbirds," and a revival of "Porgy and Bess."

Later shows in which Garth appeared were: "A Midsummer Night's Dream," "Helen of Troy," "Show Boat," and "Annie Get Your Gun."

His last appearance at St.

Victory Dance

This evening at nine o'clock in Austin Hall the annual "Football Dance" will be held under the sponsorship of the S.M.O.C. Last year's dance was a tremendous success, and this evening will without doubt follow the precedent set by the 1948 soiree.

According to dance chairman Bill O'Hearn, and Outing Club prexy, Ed Jadatz, the Michaelmen owe it to the great "Purple Knights" gridders, quest at this dance, to turn out in force for this affair in their honor. A grand gesture that will result in a grand evening for all.

Freshmen Elect Their Officers

John V. Chachere, a frosh from Mobile, Alabama, was elected acting president of his class last Tuesday.

Chachere will serve till February when another election will be held to determine the class officers for the last half of the school year.

Chachere was the representative of the Square Dealers Party which was opposed by the "Dark Horse Party."

Other officers elected included: John Amarel, Jr., (DHP), V.-Pres.; Philip Galligan, (SDP), Treas.; Walter J. Good, (SDP), Sec.

The six frosh nominated for the Student Council included: Tom Geno, Tom Moriarty, John Barry, Pete Clifford, Harry Daniels and Joe Lively.

Alumni Here For Weekend

President's Day Wed. To Honor Fr. Lyons

by Ralph Diehl

As in the past, the faculty and student body will pay tribute to their college president, the Very Rev. Daniel P. Lyons, on Wednesday, Nov. 16. Classes will be suspended for the day.

Plans for this occasion have been somewhat modified due to the concentration of events on campus at present. On the President's Day in past years the Freshman Class has put on a skit. But this year, according to Rev. Paul J. Hebert, the Freshman Class moderator, the "Frosh" will not have the opportunity to charm one and all with their talents.

This is mainly due to the fact that the equipment that they would normally use for rehearsals and the actual skit are being used at the present time by the group who are getting the Boys' Club project into shape. This and the fact that the Freshmen who would normally be in the skit are now giving their "all" for the Boys' Club affair constitute very good reasons for the moderation of the President's Day activities. This secession is with malice towards none.

At nine o'clock, there will be the Solemn High Mass in Austin Hall, celebrated by Fr. Lyons.

At ten a.m., after the Mass, there will be a faculty reception in the Library. And at eleven, there will be a student reception in Austin Hall at which Fr. Lyons will address the student body.

In the evening, there will be Solemn Benediction in the Chapel.

There'll Be Some Changes Made

New Look in the Chow Hall this year features round tables,' round which the Knights sit in true King Arthur style.

New Chow Hall Tables Get Mixed Greeting

by Robert Provencher

New color has been added to the dining hall in the form of new, bright red chrome table sets. In finding out the general consensus of the students and waiters, both are agreed on the fact that the new sets, though still few in number, add that needed color to the usually drab salle-a-manger.

The opinions of the students are summed up as follows:

1. The tables are small for the amount of ware that they must carry.
2. If they are capable of a greater seating capacity than the old tables, they should be completely installed.
3. They create an atmosphere which is more "Homey" than the old tables.

As one student said, "Before the new tables were installed, I used to rush in, eat, and hurry up and get out. Eating was a mere drudgery. But now, I always sit at one of the new tables and I take my time to eat. When you're seated in a circle, you feel more like 'shooting the breeze.' You can

Students & Grads To Get Together

Tom Niles

by Tom Breen

Students of St. Michael's will have the honor of being host to the Alumni this weekend. This is the first time in the history of the college that such a weekend has been put aside for the Alumni.

They are returning to the "Hilltop" to meet their old classmates, and teachers and see the forward steps their Alma Mater has taken in recent years.

Many of the Alumni are from the "old school" and haven't visited the campus since their days as students. Many of our graduate Michaelmen have never seen the college football team. This "Homecoming Weekend," will give the students a chance to meet the Alumni from the home state; to get together and exchange ideas for future plans and a greater St. Michael's. These are the Michaelmen whom the students will meet after graduation, the men that have their interest at heart.

Both the grads and undergrads have something in common and that is an interest in the future of their college.

STUDENTS MEET WITH ALUMNI

There will be a meeting of all State Chapters Sunday, November 13, 1949 at 10:45 a.m. The Boston Club will meet in Austin Hall with Chapter President, Atty. Fernand Boudreau.

Atty. Thomas F. Tracy, president of the Albany Chapter, will speak to the undergraduates from that area in College Hall, Room 47. The Alumni and students from Hartford will have an opportunity to meet each other Sunday in Room 46 in College Hall with head man Frank Quinland. All St. Michael's students from Springfield know Mr. William Reavey who will speak to the Chapter in the Science Hall, Room 108. The students from New York will meet Honorable Cornelius McNamara, president of the

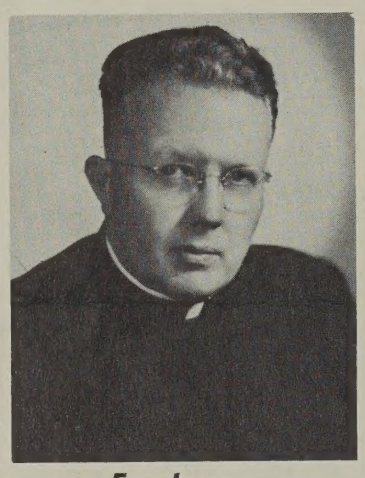
Many Happy Returns

Every great man deserves his day and St. Michael's fully recognizes this fact.

One day each year, the Feast of St. Edmund, is set aside for the honoring of the president of our college. This observance is one of the oldest and most respected occasions of the St. Edmund community. Although it is primarily a community function now, there was a time when student participation in the day was more active than is now possible.



Fr. Lyons

St. Michael's has a long line of respected and beloved presidents. Unfortunately the names and works of the majority of them are unknown to us. But we do know our present president better than most college students know their college head.

We feel a particular kindred toward Fr. Lyons because it is largely through his work that we are witnessing an expanding St. Michael's - all for our good. His efforts and accomplishments in behalf of a greater St. Michael's, for the greater benefit of its students, are strikingly and appreciably known to us. As students we cannot thank him enough for his zealous labors in our behalf. It may only be as Alumni that the full import of the progress Fr. Lyons has made in making a greater St. Michael's will be clearly realized by us.

On next Wednesday we can show our respect and appreciation by turning out in full force for the President's Mass. And while we are at Mass let's all offer up a special prayer for our Fr. Lyons.

Welcome Home

" We have with us this week," as the toastmaster said, " a very distinguished personage ....."

As a matter of fact we've got many especially distinguished personages with us this week. We refer to our Alumni who are, of course, very distinguished. How could they help being otherwise; they're Michaelmen aren't they?

This is Homecoming Weekend. It's the first of what we hope will be a long series. We, the students, are hosts this week. We've got a chance to entertain some fellows who've been through the same grind that we're going through now.

This will be the first real chance that a lot of us have had to meet the Alumni. We're going to take advantage of it. Why? Well, frankly because they're Michaelmen and a Michaelman, in our language, is synonymous with a good guy. We never pass up an opportunity to meet a good guy.

Since this is the first Homecoming Weekend there are bound to be a few missed cues. But Homecoming Weekend, like lots of other things, will improve with age. After all, look at St. Michael's.

In case any Alumni have ventured this far in this piece of undergrad wit and erudition .. Welcome home .. It's good to see you.

Question: " What do you think of the Snack Bar and the service rendered after a year in operation?"

LOUIE PANAKIO LYNN, MASS.
Fast service, reasonable prices and a good place to spend one's spare time!

ABE MADKOUR BENNINGTON, VT.
It was the best thing that ever happened to this campus and a word about the service - it couldn't be any better.

ED NOLAN JOHNSTOWN, N.Y.
I think the Snack Bar was an excellent idea and the service is now good and improving all the time!

A. J. SCANLON SCHENECTADY, N.Y.
Prices indicate a high margin of profit. I thought this was going to be non-profit. How about that?

CHRIS CAREY FAIR HAVEN, VT.
I think the Snack Bar is an improvement on the campus and because it offers a wide variety of meals is a good meeting place. Furthermore I think it would be nice if certain clubs on the campus could have the exclusive use of it on certain occasions for private entertainment under the direction of the club's president.

JOHN ROTH NEW YORK CITY
Not only is the Snack Bar a place to serve food to those who are hungry, or cigarettes for those who smoke, but it also serves as an outlet from the routine of study for those who cannot journey elsewhere, due to the limited amount of time between classes. An idea is to have the Snack Bar hours extended through the weekend on a smaller scale.

JOE BLASIE DERBY, CONN.
I think that the Snack Bar is a very nice place, serving both good food and excellent coffee, under the helping hands of courteous and reliable waiters and waitresses - especially Peggy!!!

BOB GELINAS CHICOPEE FALLS, MASS.
Not much.
The service is satisfactory but the prices are appalling. Many places in town sell cigarettes at .20 cents a pack. Why 22 here? Who's retiring on my 2 cents?

Campus Static

Happiest man on campus this week is Bill Hanlon, the stewart. He and the Missus can pray with new rosaries, the gift of an Archbishop who knows a good cuisine when he tastes it. The " premier garcon" -French for Jack Cronin - also got a beaded " merci" from " son excellence."

Paul Norman has lost his heart to a U.V.M. cutie. St. Pat's is a heaven of Romeos. The N.E. Telephone Company can confirm this. Who is the " dream girl" down at Singer Sewing Machine that Paul Kiley is always seen with? John Daneluk is a football player on and off the field. He even tries to go through closet doors in his sleep. Where did Dick O'Brien get the name " Dinny" ??? Word has it that Sam Lopiano is quite a dancer ... don't forget the Boys' Club Benefit, Sam... every little bit helps. Paul Stapleton has been seen at 159 Loomis St., Burlington, quite frequently. What's the attraction, Paul??? If you meet Bob Murphy beware for it seems he borrows anything from cigarettes to suits. " Don't Cry Joe" is Joe Blaise's song if we are to believe all the requests made for it lately. The Stearn's Men Shop in Waterville, Maine, no longer sells hats thanks to the S.M.C. football team. The boys in St. Pat's wish Pat O'Doherty's girl would stop calling him at three o'clock in the morning from N.Y.C. ... Really that's " too much!" What's this about Eddie O'Hagen having an Indian friend in Montreal. Jack O'Connor is the leading candidate for the most studious boy in S.M.C. ... He even talks about Physics in his sleep. George Lavallee and Bob Digan will make some girls happy someday with all the baby sitting practice they are getting these days. Could Ed Keating's constant desire to go home be Peggy ... ah, love must be grand. Al Castellana's girl was here for a visit last Sunday... some people have all the luck. Bill Hindle must have it bad ... has been going home weekly. Paul Goyette likes U.V.M. for the usual reason ... it's co-ed. Who was the dead body on Dick Carnicky's bed a few weeks ago??? John Gardner should feel right at home in this state ... hear he is an excellent cow caller. Who is " Gorgeous George" in Physics lab. ??? Bill Driscoll gets a long distance call every Saturday night to see if he is studying. Could it be the little woman, Bill??? Rumor has it that Jim Sciarino is trying to steal someone's girl in St. William's Rm. 211. Jim Brown has been getting a little too much water these days. Trinity beware! Jack Lyons is on the war path once again. Who's the samaritan from St. John's who was vacuuming the floor at the Naples??? Could it be Bill Doyle? Hope John Noonan doesn't get too many love letters for it takes John 3 days to write a reply.

Who's Who candidate Walt Wallace is changing the " Who's Who" to " Who'd Who'd."

College P'kwy has lately become quite the speedway. Unofficial tabulation by itinerant Michaelmen of fatalities for the month of October included two cats and a skunk. Additions or corrections would be appreciated.---

New Look For St. Ed's Has Modern Color Plan

by Edward Ruest

The renovation of the early American farmhouse known as St. Edmund's Hall is nearing completion according to Mr. John Buchan superintendent of buildings and grounds.

Mr. Buchan said that work on the building, which is used by men preparing to enter the Society of St. Edmund, was begun last summer. Both because of the age of the structure, which reputedly dates back to the time of Ethan Allen, and the heavy blasting, which has been carried on nearby, it became necessary to reinforce the foundation and replace many of the heavy timbers in the building.

STILL IN CHARACTER

Although four rooms have been added upstairs and three rooms and a bathroom downstairs the early American character of the place has been retained. Many of the original wide plank floors have been scraped and finished to a mellow reddish-gold lustre.

The results of years of research by General Electric lighting engineers in the field of color photogenics has been put into practice throughout the interior. The rooms have all been finished in soft pastel shades, yielding an effect which is both attractive and pleasing.

Some of the added rooms, particularly those on the second floor, afford magnificent scenic views of the sunken valleys and rolling mountains. The sixteen S.S.E. students who will occupy the rooms in this hall next year will have the best quarters on the campus.

Rec. Room Ready By Next January

When St. Michael's students return to the campus after the Christmas vacation, a new feature will have been added.

Through the efforts of Rev. Garrett Larkin, a recreation room, supplied with pool and ping-pong tables, will be provided for the use of the students. For further comfort, furniture is now being prepared to give the room a more "home-like" appearance. A room in the basement of Old Hall is being remodelled to house the new recreation room. The delay in the opening has been necessitated by the immediate need of other projects, but he said the room will definitely be in readiness come January. The recreation room will be open, under proper supervision, every day from 1:00 p.m. until 9:00 p.m. Fr. Larkin reminds the students that it is their money that has made this project possible; thus they should respect the hall as their homes. If this room is to be a success the cooperation of everyone is necessary. Fr. Larkin wants this room to live up to his expectations. The proper care of the hall will help fulfill this wish, he said.

Go To The Show

A month of work will be climaxed this Friday with the Night of Knights show in Memorial Auditorium.

There are many reasons why every Michaelman should make it a point to take in the show. Boiled down they come to these three:

1. You can help a lot of Burlington kids who need a new Boys' Club.
2. Your buddies will be in it. They'd like to see you in the audience.
3. It's going to be terrific. Don't miss it.

There will be a parade in Burlington, Thursday, Nov. 17. This will be for the "Night of Knights" benefit and all Michaelmen are requested to march in it.

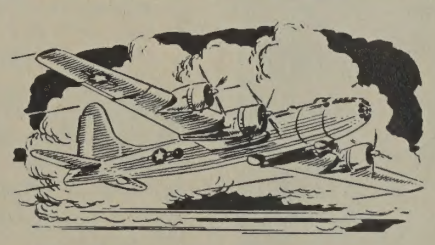
Major Norm Hays, Oklahoma A&M, '40
-Aviation Executive, U.S. Air Force!

A native of Grove, Oklahoma, Norman Hays graduated from Grove High School in 1935. The following year he entered Oklahoma A&M, where he majored in engineering; also took public speaking.

Active in national 4H Club work while in college, he helped organize its statewide activities, won a national 4H championship in Public Speaking. In 1940 he received his BS degree in engineering.

A month later he began navigator training as an Aviation Cadet. In 1941, he received his navigator's wings and a commission as Second Lieutenant . . . married his college sweetheart.

Sent to an RAF Navigation School in Canada, he graduated with the highest possible rating of Specialist. Norman served overseas for 18 months in the Aleutians, Italy and Saipan.



Accepting a regular commission after the war, he was assigned to development of navigation instruments; navigated the B-29 "Pacusan Dreamboat" on its famed Hawaii-Cairo non-stop flight in 1946.

Typical of college graduates who have found their place in the U. S. Air Force, Major Hays is Chief, Navigation Section, at Headquarters in Washington . . . with a secure career . . . a promising future.

If you are single, between the ages of 20 and 26½, with at least two years of college, consider a flying career as an officer in the U. S. Air Force. You may be able to meet the high physical and moral requirements and be selected for training. If you do not complete Aviation Cadet training, you may return to civilian life or have opportunity to train for an important officer assignment in non-flying fields.

Air Force officer procurement teams are visiting many colleges and universities to explain about these career opportunities. Watch for their arrival or get full details at your nearest Air Force Base, local recruiting station, or by writing to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Debate Men Open Meet Providence

The Newman Debating Society begins its debating season this Thursday and Friday evening.

On Thursday evening the Newman Debaters play host to a negative team representing Providence College from Providence, R.I. The debate will be held in Science Hall 107 at eight o'clock.

The topic of debate will be: Resolved: " That the United States Should Nationalize the Basic Non-agricultural Industries."

The students and faculty are invited to attend the debate. The society hopes that the debates this year will be as well attended as they were last year.

AT UVM

The debaters will also journey across the river on Friday evening to participate in the University of Vermont Annual Invitational Debate Tournament. There will be about thirty colleges from the East represented at the tournament.

The first round of debates start at eight-thirty on Friday evening. The debates are to be held in the various lecture rooms on the UVM campus. On Saturday morning at eight-thirty the tournament moves over to Burlington High School for the second round of debates and then moves back to the UVM campus for the remaining rounds at one-thirty and four o'clock.

The tournament concludes in the evening with a Model Congress held at the City Hall Auditorium.

The students are also invited to attend these debates at the University. A schedule of the debates can be secured in the main lobby of the Waterman building on the day of the debates.

The names of the debaters from among whom the selection will be made for the Providence College and the University of Vermont Tournament are: Don Powers, Jack Burke, John Higgins, Bill Liberator, Ray O'Keefe, Larry LaFountain, Bob Gelinas, Andy Scanlon, Ray Deforge, Bill Hindle and Howard Lancour.

New Devotion To Be Continued

The initial attempt to establish Nocturnal Adoration Devotions at St. Michael's College has proved successful.

The committee sponsoring the devotions headed by Jerry Reagan and Jim Loughrey, announced that over 500 students worshipped between the hours of 7 o'clock, Thursday night and 6 o'clock, Friday night. Both on-campus and off-campus students participated.

Hoping that such a program will be permanently incorporated into the worship program here at the college the adoration committee is already making plans for the first Friday in December. The program will be basically the same with the exception of a few minor changes in the prayers and the starting time of the devotion.

STARTS AT 6:30

Henceforth, the devotions will start at 6:30 of the Thursday night before the first Friday. This means that the students will begin their hour of adoration on the half-

Michaelman Gets Coast To Coast Publicity

The MICHALEMAN is known from coast to coast.

This, at least, seems to be the opinion of the " Focus," the official publication of the NFCCS.

This month's Focus carries a reprint from the MICHAELMAN. The reprint is the slightly phenomenal speech which Jim Guimond gave at the Boston conference of the NFCCS last year and which the MICHAELMAN printed. Guimond graduated last June.

The speech appears in the Focus in the same type form in which it was first printed in the MICHAELMAN. Apparently what the editors of Focus did was to simply clip the speech from the MICHAELMAN, photograph it and reprint it from the photo.

The accompanying acknowledgement says simply: " reprinted from the MICHAELMAN." No St. Michael's College. NoWinooski, Vermont. The Focus editors obviously believe that their readers, who are scattered in colleges from Maine to California, all are acquainted with St. Michael's.

Six Seniors Bow Out Against Norwich Today

by RAY DOHERTY

The Purple Knights of St. Michael's College will ring down the curtain on their 1949 football season this afternoon as they meet the Horsemen from Norwich University at Centennial Field.

Since this is homecoming week at St. Michael's the home stands will be well fortified with cheering alumni and friends.

The rivalry existing between the two teams is as keen as a razor's edge. It reached its climax in 1947 when the students of St. Michael's put on one of the most spirited rallies in the history of the school, the night before the Norwich game. That night enthusiastic bands of Michaelmen snake danced through the city of Burlington with cries of " Beat Norwich."

KNIGHTS HAVE EDGE

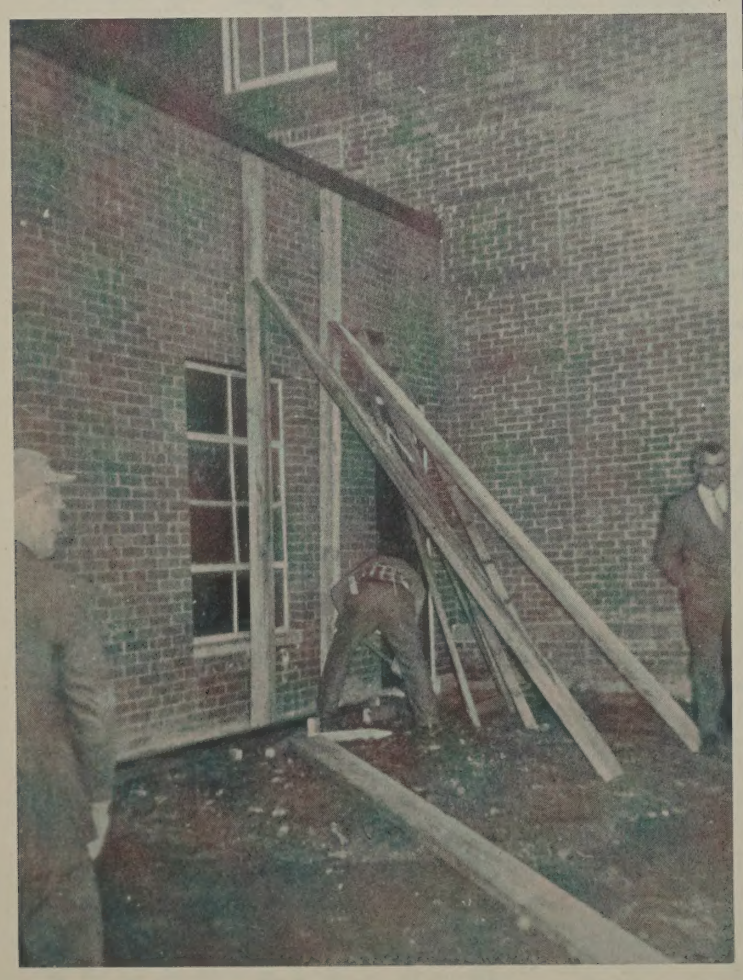
Despite the strong rivalry which has evolved this will be but the sixth game played between the two teams. The Knights hold a three-to-two edge in the five games played thus far.

The first game was played in 1922 with Norwich emerging the victors by a score of 21-0. Their other victory was registered in 1947 when they downed St. Michael's 13 - 0. The Knights rebounded last year by rolling over the Northfield rivals 19-0. The Mikemen also won in 1932 (20-6) and 1933 (6-0).

Judging by the season's records St. Michael's will be the logical favorite since they have won 2 games, tied 3 and lost 2, while Norwich has yet to hit the win column in seven starts. Howéver, Norwich is not to be regarded lightly as they definitely will be up for this one. In previous state competition this season the Horsemen have shown they can be plenty rough. They held Vermont scoreless for one half before losing 20-0 and a highly favored Middlebury club was unable to do a thing against Norwich until the final period when they barely eked out a 6-0 victory.

Playing their last ball game for St. Michael's will be seniors Jack Daly and Clem Ferris, co-captains of last year's team, along with Marty Conley, Jim Conboy, Tom Hannigan, and Bob Knight.

And The Walls Came Tumbling Down



Workmen prop up the walls of the Science Hall boiler room after the boiler blew its stack last Wednesday. Rebricking was finished in time for the building to present an unmarred appearance to the visiting alumni.

Freshman John Igo from Cambridge, Mass., was the winner of five dollars in the first MICHAELMAN football contest. John picked thirteen out of fifteen winners in the games of November 5th missing only the Union-Middlebury tie and Florida's upset win over Georgia. Igo was the only one to come close, the next nearest entry having 11 right out of 15.

by TONY CAULEY

This week's encounter with Norwich wraps up another football season and from the looks of some of the sling-encased arms, bent noses and fat lips the gridsters are sporting on the Hill, the coming of winter and the hanging up of cleats is a blessing. The Colby game was a particularly rough one from all accounts, but fortunately none of the Knights were seriously injured. However, many of them sustained minor cuts and bruises in the Maine fracas, and they together with the men sidelined for the year with permanent hurts, makes the squad a pretty show-worn crew. Most serious injury was to flashing Jack Heggarty who will probably be sidelined vs. Norwich today.

Let us remember that the entire squad, together with managers and coaches have been at it day-in and day-out without a break since the middle of August. That's right, I said August. While most of us were still having a fine time at the beaches, golf-links, etc., the squad was out at Camp Holy Cross getting into shape. That was a long time ago; almost three months. How many among the student body who live within a radius of 200 miles haven't spent at least one week-end at home since the opening of the fall term. Not many, to be sure. The members of the football squad haven't had any such holiday, and will not have a chance to take one until the final whistle that finishes the Norwich game,

Which leaves us with the conviction that football is a swell sport to watch, discuss and write about, but a rough game to play. It's a grind: an everyday challenge to the stamina of a man's physical make-up. For every actual 60 minute game played on Saturday afternoons, the team puts in about 15 hours on the practice field, not counting spring practice. That is why this column agrees with those who say football players should be paid outright. And why not? Everyone else connected with the sport makes money. The coaches, trainers, groundkeepers, reporters, announcers, ticket-collectors, ect., ect., ect., all get paid, so why not the players, who take all the chances and in doing so make a living possible for all those other guys. Something like a bonus on gate receipts is just an idea. No doubt a great many big schools are paying their stars plenty, but why they do it on the sly is something we cannot understand. It is not a sin to give a man compensation for an honest day's work, in fact most people consider it downright justifiable.

Touch Football Champs Decided

Paced by Ed Markey and George Kruse, St. Patrick's Hall swept to the Intramural Football Championship with a 7 to 6 win over a fighting St. James' A aggregation.

St. Pat's drew first blood when George Kruse took a lateral pass from quarterback Markey and aided by a timely block thrown by Barry Connell went on to score. Markey kicked the extra point which later proved to be the margin of victory.

CRONIN TO GEARY

A long Cronin to Geary pass covering 55 yards set up St. James' in scoring position. On the next play Ed Kehoe took a short pass from Cronin for the TD. Cronin's attempted pass for the extra point was incomplete.

St. James' is the only team to have scored against St. Pat's all season, marring what would otherwise have been a perfect defensive record.

Simas Star For Purple In 7-7 Tie With Colby

by Whit Bartlett

Paced by the hard running of Frank Simas and Johnny Yurasits and the accurate drop kicking of Art "The Toe" Coggio the St. Michael's College grid forces came from behind to tie favored Colby College 7 to 7, in the snow and rain last Saturday at Waterville, Maine.

It was the third tie of the season for the Knights who enter today's season's finale with Norwich with a season's record of two wins, three ties, and two losses.

Colby jumped off to an early first period lead when halfback Chet Harrington gathered in one of Jack Heggarty's punts on the S.M. 46 and scampered the rest of the way, behind some nice downfield blocking, to a touchdown.

KNIGHTS FUMBLE

The Knights came back fast in the second period and marched from their own ten to the Mules' ten yard stripe before a fumble ended that scoring threat. From the ten the Mules punted out of danger and from the Knights' 30 yard line Simas and Yurasits alternated to bring the ball to the Colby 1 yard line in nine plays from where Simas lugged the leather over. Coggio then came in for his only play of the game and planted one right through the uprights to knot the score at 7-7.

The Knights, who had a wide edge in the statistics, threatened several times in the second half but they just couldn't push the ball over the goal. Twice the Knights moved to the Colby 30 yard line but each time the Colby defense stiffened and the Jacobs' charges were held on downs.

SIMAS STARS

Frank Simas was the particular standout for St. Mike's as he picked up 124 yards in 23 cracks at the Mules' line for a good average of better than five yards per try. He was strong on defense too and his interception of a Colby pass late in the game put an end to a major Colby threat.

St. Michael's picked up 18 first downs to 12 for Colby and outgained the Mules on the ground 236 yards to 210 for the Mules and in the air 60 yards to 31.

Introducing

Jim Whitlock

by Robert Shiner

Who says that guards don't score touchdowns? If you're of that belief you should speak to a certain footballer by the name of Jim Whitlock. He will tell you, with some assistance from his roommates of course, that while playing for Alma Mater, Charlestown High, in Charlestown, Mass., he scooped up a fumble and raced fifty-five yards for a touchdown against South Boston High which proved to be the tying marker.

"Whit" was born July 30, 1927. He participated in three sports in high school: football, hockey and baseball, winning three letters in each. In his freshman year at the Hilltop he played football and hockey. Standing six feet and weighing 190 pounds he looked like guard material to the "Doc."

As every one knows he was guard material as is evidenced by his play of the last two years. The "Whit" however, doesn't limit his activities to the sports field as he is a member of the SAC and was a deans-list student last year.

If you're looking ahead to today's game with Norwich there is a good sign as Whitlock joined by his roommate Joe Hermans think that last Saturday's game with Colby was the best coordinated game to date.

NEW BOOKS IN THE LIBRARY

by Ralph Diehl

In reference to the review of the book " The Other House" by Henry James, which appeared in this column of the October 22 issue, I have been informed that Mr. James died in 1916 and therefore could not have " done it again".... Thank you, noble friend...

FICTION

LIKE LESSER GODS By MARI TOMASI 1949

Against the background of the Barre granite quarries, carving sheds, and rock dust, comes to life the moving story of the every day heartaches and joys of the sturdy granite workers who, " like lesser gods" create memorials in stone...Here is a story of love, happiness, tragedy, and accomplishment of the descendants of the craftsmen of the medieval days...Good reading for anyone.

JAMES AND JOAN By ANNE FREMANTLE 1948

This unorthodox historical novel tells the story behind Scotland's poet king who was surrounded by too many grown men. During James' romantic life, he met Joan Beaufort while in exile in England and there married her..The complications which arise from this make the reading both humorous and heart warming...It is rich in the sights and sounds of the early 15th century: the life of the people, the London plague, the moors and brackens ...Although the story is that of Scotland's king, the theme is the timeless one of love and loneliness and death.

NON-FICTION

HOW TO BECOME A DOCTOR By GEORGE R. MOON 1949

To read this book is like sitting down with someone and discussing a future career... It has the answers for all the young men and women planning for a career in medicine, dentistry, veterinary medicine, pharmacy, optometry, chiropody, occupational therapy, hospital administration, medical illustration and science...More than a catalogue, it goes into a detailed discussion and analysis of the problems of finance, housing, outside employment, internship and residencies...The result of twenty years' experience for every prospective doctor.

THE MIRACLE DRUG By BORIS SOHOLOff, M.D. 1949

Here is valuable information to all on the story behind each of the new drugs brought to our attention in the everyday newspaper...What will these new drugs do for you?... Can they save your life?... These are some of the questions that this book can answer authoritatively for the layman...Other and more personal questions are also answered, backed by the latest medical research...All this is only part of the inspiring and cheering story of " The Miracle Drug."

RUPP'S CHAMPIONSHIP BASKETBALL By ADOLPH RUPP 1948

Here is a book for the basketball player, coach, and fan as played at the University of Kentucky. Here are the ideas and philosophies that has helped Coach Rupp and his Co-Olympic Champs of 1948... Your guide book for the coming season.

A HISTORY OF EARLY RUSSIAN LITERATURE By N. K. GUDZY 1949

Here is an historical survey of old Russian literature, from the 11th through the 17th century...The author takes up every literary document in chronological order, discussing its genesis and source, describing the manuscript and printed editions, and appraising critically its language and literary values.

get acquainted with the fellows this way."

As far as the waiters are concerned, they dislike the tables in so far as they are more difficult to serve. According to them, because they are not set in a straight line, their only recourse is to zig-zag through to their destination.

According to Mr. Buchan, plans are still tentative as to whether or not more of the new sets will be added.

hour instead of on the hour as was the case last week.

The committee urges the cooperation of all the student body, but they wish to stress that the Nocturnal Adoration Devotion is strictly voluntary and should be kept so.

The adoration committee further announced that they will hold a meeting next Monday night in Room 28 of College Hall where any suggestions will be graciously received.

John Garth

Michael's was this summer when he gave a brief before-curtain recital during the week of " The Rivals." He also had a leading role in, " The Night and the Star," the $3,000 Christopher award play by John Oberg. During the play he sang, " Water Boy," and " Deep River."

He made a fine impression both as a singer and actor, and it is with great pleasure that it was learned that the Knights and Knaves are sponsoring Mr. Garth in a return engagement.

By way of statistics, Mr. Garth stands six feet tall and weighs a mere two hundred and six pounds. His hobbies are weight lifting, swimming and poker.
